

Front-end Developer Java

We are currently expanding our development team by several engineers.

Are you interested in BIG data, in search technology, in mass-data analysis or machine learning? Do you like to code in Java using open-source software? Do you want to join one of the fastest-growing and most innovative IT companies in Luxembourg?

As a member of our Talkwalker Web Development Team, you will:

- Build, develop and refine our core technologies
- Participate in continuous R&D work for our machine learning algorithms
- Constantly work on diverse and challenging new functionalities (detection of duplicates, sentiment, events, trends, automatic translation of text, content extraction, clustering, image classification and brand detection, ...)
- Let your work be seen by more than 600 paying clients and more than 100.000 free users
- Be able to influence business and product delivery in a flexible company structure
- Work together with Data, the search and the Takwalker team

We are looking for you:

- You have fun and experience in programming complex software technologies
- You have strong Java development skills
- You create stable, reliable and maintainable code
- You have good algorithm and data structure knowledge
- You are creative, self-motivated, try things out on your own and simply get things done.

What we offer:

- Outstanding development team and great company atmosphere where you can personally grow
- Monthly developer talks
- Yearly paid attendance to a conference of your choice related to your work. (e.g. Elasticon in San Francisco)
- Competitive salary package, flexible hours
- Additional benefits: free drinks, meal vouchers, weekly company lunches/drinks, monthly events (laser game, ice skating, ...)
- VISA sponsorship for successful candidates if required
