

We are a Tier 1 automotive company with more than 2000 employees globally servicing major OEM customers. Our innovative products range includes power train cooling and AC systems.

A key milestone in our global expansion was reached through the recent set up of our Luxembourg office located in Bascharage, which is now growing rapidly to become an Industry leader in Europe.

To accompany our expansion, we are looking to recruit a Quality System Engineer Internship (6 months minimum)

Ref HTH_98:

The role:

- Implementation of a global quality management system fully automated align with both standards ISO 9001 & IATF 16949
- Start with Luxembourg as site pilot and roll-out the automated global quality management system in each region (global footprint of 15 operations)
- Prepare the internally training program for all the key users
- Be the main contact of the company with the company which provide the QMS software
- Monthly reporting to the management of the progress of the implementation

Profile and experience

- A student in engineering
- Knowledge in automotive quality processes, standards and quality tools (IATF 16949 & ISO 9001)
- First experience in automotive industry highly appreciated
- Initiative, a pro-active attitude, team spirit

Skills and abilities

- Ability to work in an international environment
- Strong analytical and synthetic skills
- Good knowledge in IT programs (VBA, Office)
- Fluent in English. Chinese or French would be a real asset

We offer great career progression opportunities. Should you be interested please send your CV, quoting the reference of the advertisement, to Elodie.gonzalez@sdaac.com.